CAIRO, July 15.—Axis forces, striving desperately to oust the British from advanced positions west of El Alamein, launched a third attack with tank and infantry units against Tel El Eisa (the hill of Jesus), the middle east high command announced today.

After having been soundly repulsed in two successive daylight attacks on Tel El Eisa, 10 miles west of El Alamein, the British revealed in a communiqué, Nazi General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel sent his German and Italian troops into battle against the British positions in the late evening yesterday.

Fighting Continues

The fighting continued into the night.

Only minor patrol activity was reported on other sectors of the 50-mile front, extending westward from the British defense line 70 miles from the naval base of Alexandria.

Air forces supporting the British eighth army meanwhile maintained their series of large-scale bombardments.

The tanker sunk by the light British force was accompanied by a heavy escort, the communiqué said.

The attacking vessels sustained no losses to themselves.

"Light coastal forces destroyed a heavily escorted enemy tanker off Cherbourg early today and heavily damaged two armed trawlers without loss," the admiralty said.

Four Youths In Supplice Murder In Sharpsville Are Sentenced

ANOTHER PRISONER ALSO GIVEN 'LIFE'

(Special To The News)
MERCER, July 15.—All-time criminal court records for Mercer county were shattered today when Judge George H. Rowley pronounced five life term prison sentences within a few minutes—for the murder of James M. Supplice in Sharpsville, March 22, and the other for the murder of Thurman Haynes in Farrell March 26.

Judge Rowley's words doomed four youths—William A. Johannes, 20, Youngstown; Lewis Osborn, 20, and Charles Brown, 23, both of Sharon, and Floyd Stainbrook, 20, Sharon, R. F. D. 2—to Western penitentiary at Pittsburgh for the remainder of their natural lives.

Pleas Entered

The quartet had entered first degree pleas in the killing of Supplice, a clerk in the Sharon office of Warner-Smith Motor Freight Co. awaiting their May term trials.

George Washington Brown, Negro, died a life term for the murder of Haynes in Farrell.

Neither the four youths nor Brown showed any outward sign of emotion when Judge Rowley passed sentence. The judge, in an opinion which took 35 minutes to read, reviewed the 1 a. m. murder of Supplice and recalled every phase of the youths' participation.

Johannes was the first to face the judge. All heard their sentences separately.

Mercer county authorities said the five will be transferred to the Pittsburgh prison immediately.

The Germans may succeed in isolating the southern Soviet armies from the central Russian forces and may also cut off the rest of Russia from direct overland access to the Caucasian oil fields.

However, the view prevails in official diplomatic quarters here that even these victories will not win the war for Germany as long as the main Soviet armies have not been destroyed.

The one thing that is encouraging the belief that the Russian situation is by no means hopeless as yet is the fact that the Soviet armies up to the present are not being destroyed in any large numbers.

Wenchow And Julian Are Taken By Jap Forces

(International News Service)
CHUNGKING, July 15.—The fall of Wenchow and Julian to Japanese troops in Kiangsi Province was officially today.

Langchuan island in the mouth of the Min river still is in Japanese hands, blocking Foochow, a military spokesman said.

Intelligence reports state that Japanese troops to the strength of 20 brigades have been semi-permanently established in North Central China, indicating the Japanese are planning an offensive.

It is not known whether yesterday's order was merely a suspension or a permanent closing order. It is probable that it was the latter because it is evident that the war effort, and not W.P.A., is to get the entire attention of the country.

Axis Nears Vital Russian Points

This Central Press map shows how rapidly-advancing German armored forces now threaten Rostov and Stalingrad, vital Russian communications points connecting with the Caucasus. Russian dispatches admit the Germans have reached Boguchar, 190 miles west of Stalingrad, the capture of which would be a serious blow to the Russians. The Russians also have been forced to withdraw from Rzhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow, where the Germans have launched an offensive.

Charge He Ran Auto Into Step-father And Then Hit Bridge, Killing Mother

DUAL TRAGEDY NEAR GREENSBURG

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., July 15.—State motor police today held an 18-year-old youth whom they charge deliberately crashed his automobile into his step-father, killing him, and then accidentally smashed into a bridge, killing his mother.

The youth, Russell Roddy, of Lloydsburg, was found in a wooded area last night after hiding from searchers and police for two days.

The victims, of what police termed a "murderous plan that backfired" were Ernest Fletcher, 61, the step-father, and his wife, Mrs. Louella Fletcher, 32.

The "accident" which occurred last Sunday night appeared at first to be routine but an investigation by Dr. H. A. McMurray, Westmoreland county coroner, revealed that Roddy deliberately swerved his car off the highway, striking his step-father while he was taking a walk with his dog.

According to Dr. McMurray, the fatal episode followed a long period during which the son and mother had been feuding with Fletcher.

United States To Buy All Iceland's Exports

By WILLIAM W. WADE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
REYKJAVIK, July 15.—The United States lend-lease administration has signed contracts for the purchase of an estimated $45,000,000 worth of Icelandic products during the fiscal year 1942-43 representing almost all of Iceland's export commodities.

The new commitments were made in addition to a lend-lease fund of $25,000,000 of which approximately $18,000,000 has already been spent. They represent higher prices, "a substantial increase" over previous levels.

The contracts for the current year, now awaiting formal ratification in Washington, provide for the purchase of all Iceland's white fish, all of her herring oil, half of her cod oil, 25,000 tons of fish meal and 450,000 sheepskins which will be made into flying suits.

The white fish contract represents approximately 80 per cent of the $45,000,000 total. The catch last year amounted to more than 195,000 long tons. Herring oil production is expected to reach 25,000 tons during the year.

Under both the new and old agreements, the bulk of Iceland's fish catch is being sent to England

MOSCOW, July 15.—Shrilling battle planes filled the sky over Voronezh today as German siege forces, employing practically every implement of modern war, sought to deliver a knock-out blow to the defenders of the strategic city on the Moscow-Rostov railway.

"The Germans are striving to encircle the town and the sky echoes dizzily with screaming, shrieking battle planes," the government newspaper Izvestia said.

As the Germans drew tighter their ring of steel around the city, sending in new units of flame-throwers, heavy tanks and motorized infantry, the defenders resisted stubbornly in the streets and from rooftops.

FEDERAL AND STATE TAX BILLS TO REACH THIRTY-TWO BILLIONS is our duty to write the best sort of tax bill possible, and this we have failed to do."

"I have no concern for the small number of big companies that are waxing fat from war contracts," he asserted in a minority report, "but I have tremendous concern for the thousands and thousands of small companies scattered over the length and breadth of the land that give employment to millions of people and sustain our American economy."

Knutson argued that "contrary to popular belief, the corporations of America are today carrying their full share of the tax load."

Huge Deficit Seen

Citing the huge war expenditures being made by the federal government, the committee report stated that even with the additional taxes, the deficit for the fiscal year 1943 would approximate $52,000,000 and might rise above this figure should war expenditures go above present estimates.

Since Pearl Harbor, the report pointed out, the federal government has appropriated more than $130,000,000 for war purposes, while the entire defense program since 1940 now exceeds $200,000,000.

"The funds necessary to finance this tremendous program can be secured only in two ways—by taxation and by borrowing," the report stated. "At best, our national credit will be subjected to a severe strain. To the extent that our tax revenues are increased, the strain will be lessened."

The tax bill will be brought up for debate in the house tomorrow—probably under a "gag" rule prohibiting any changes, but a final house vote on the bill is not expected until next Monday.

ENTERING SECOND PHASE

DONALD NELSON'S assertion that the first and most difficult part of preparation—the conversion of large industries from civilian to war manufacture—has been completed and that henceforth it is a question of the allocation of raw materials to assure the most effective equipment of the military services, is an encouraging situation for a nation well versed in the capacity of its industries to turn out the goods.

On every side there is accumulating evidence that America's assembly lines are geared to mass production of weapons and war supplies on a gigantic scale. Factories formerly equipped for the unprecedented output of motor cars, heavy machinery, railroad equipment, farm implements, office machinery, household utensils, construction industry tools and many other products of peace times are today entirely transformed and operating with the single purpose of making the implements necessary to the winning of a global war.

Mr. Nelson's current activity has to do with organizing this tremendous set-up so that it will pour out the necessary supplies at the proper time. Tanks, planes and other offensive weapons demand certain raw materials, ammunition requires others and ships must have a free in-take of the essentials necessary to the construction of the world's largest fleet. Frequently these demands overlap and the allocation must go to the point of most pressing need. That is America's second job and with its genius for productive organization no one doubts that it will come through.

The United States is now entering the stage of the war for which the Allies have been waiting—the complete preparedness of the nation's industrial machine to produce the goods. The outpouring of weapons will now be on a scale such as no nation has ever approached.

YOU ARE THE GOVERNMENT

With taxes a tremendously growing burden on every citizen in the United States, the people must take an increasing interest in all affairs of government, from the smallest school district to Congress itself.

Taking an interest in the affairs of government does not mean to merely sit back and wait after assessments have been levied. Instead, the study of the legitimate needs of government and sift them out of the thousand and one purely political items that have crept into public budgets.

The people must begin talking to or writing to their city councils, their local school boards, their county boards, their tax commissions, their state legislators and last, but not least, their congressmen and senators who are today levying taxes which are taking the lion's share of the tax payments of every individual, every business and every industry.

Your congressmen are anxious to know what you think about various measures proposed which deflate your pocketbook. They cannot know if you never express your opinions. A postcard message from a man on the soil, a workman in an industry or a small businessman struggling to meet the tax problems, is the best index of public thinking. There should be sacrifice and economy in government, just as there is sacrifice and economy and scrimping in every home in the land.

Let your public officials know how you feel on legislative and taxation policies that affect every job, every industry and every dime of savings. The future of representative government is in the hands of the people in more ways than one. Remember, you are the government. Don't expect it to be any better than the thought you contribute to it.

SACRIFICE AT THE TOP

People the country over have caught the spirit of sacrifice. Non-combatants everywhere have given their sons, their brothers and in some cases their fathers to do service against the enemy. The soldiers themselves have gone cheerfully. There has been no holding back. Business men who have been badly handicapped by priorities orders depriving them of good they customarily handle have gone ahead seeking to cut corners and continue making a living, well knowing that our first task now is to win the war.

And millions of others whose incomes have not increased through added war expenditures and who have had to face shrinking incomes because of the increasing cost of living, are tightening their belts and buying war stamps and bonds whenever possible. Mr. and Mrs. America, facing further rationing, will go along with Uncle Sam because this is essential if we are to continue to have a free nation. All of this must be bad news, to the Axis, whose propagandists have been stating for months that democratic Americans were "too soft" to carry on a war. They certainly are beginning to be painfully surprised.

With the realization of their own sacrifices the American people, by and large, have a right to demand some belt tightening on the part of Washington. Anyone who has visited our national capital in recent weeks must be impressed by the change. It has become a swollen and overcrowded city. The commissions and bureaus have grown in size and personnel. The government has hundreds of agents exhorting the people to further sacrifice. The people have the right to demand sacrifice at Washington.

Increasing federal personnel in war-time is inevitable. Yet there are charges of duplication and wasted effort which ought to be thoroughly investigated and corrected. Peace-time agencies which might now be curtailed and dispensed with have fought every effort to decrease their personnel. Certainly if the bureaus and commissions want to win this war they ought to be willing to do a little sacrificing of their own. Let us have a belt tightening at Washington as well as over the country—no interference with the legitimate and necessary war effort, but an example which might encourage the folks back home and serve as a measuring rod for carrying on.

If new motor cars are smaller after the war, will they move parking meters still closer together?

When you turn in your scrap rubber go into that old trunk in the attic and see if you can't scare up some of those shiny collars you used to wear.

When Ball of Fire is mentioned in the United States we immediately think of Barbara Stanwyck. Over in Europe when Ball of Fire is mentioned they think of the RAF.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOW PARENTS ANGER CHILDREN

"Provoke not your children to wrath," the Good Book tells us. This admonition we are inclined to give less weight to than another: "Children obey your parents." We get more pleasure from the latter than the former.

Nevertheless, we parents do try to be honest. We want to be aware of our common frailties toward our children and to improve ourselves. Our adolescent children have a sense of self-respect. They also have ideals and opinions which they enjoy expressing just as we adults do. They like to share in the council of the family. When plans are made for house-cleaning, for remodeling the home, for buying a new bedroom set, they are keenly interested.

They like to join in the planning and feel themselves considered as worthy members of the family. Although their judgments lack in richness of experience, they sometimes have ideas far superior to the ideas of adults. Certainly their counsel should be given honor and consideration.

It is impossible to love anyone who makes us feel we don't amount to anything. The first means, therefore, of winning the confidence and comradeship of our adolescent children is to avoid belittling them or anything they cherish.

I have discovered that my older children often are anxious about my reputation with their friends and I have at times embarrassed them by being careless concerning small matters of convention and the nice amenities of life. For one to feel and express regret at misbehavior of this sort wins the respect of our children, provided one attempts earnestly to do better in the future.

What would it profit us if we were to gain the whole world and lose the lasting affection and esteem of our children? What would we give in exchange for it?

A "Prayer for Parents" may be had, without cost, by writing me at 235 E. 45th St., New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

In a family I know, the 19-year-old son often helps to make dates for his 17-year-old sister and seems to go out of his way in order to help her meet new boy friends. What do you think of this?

A. It strikes me as superb. I wish more older brothers (and sisters as well) would take such an attitude toward the younger brother or sister. Then there would be fewer lonely and unhappy persons in this world.

Photographic MAGIC

A lady called at a studio for a sitting. The photographer made two negatives and promised the prints for the following day.

The next day her husband called for the prints, but the photographer showed him only one. The husband said: "My understanding was that there were to be two prints."

"I did make two sittings of your wife," replied the photographer, "but in one she held her lips apart and showed the end of her tongue."

"My Lord," gasped the husband. "Let me see that one. I didn't know that there was an end to it."

"At times I pace the room," said she.

"And wish it weren't so orderly. There should be papers on the floor; A chair should hold the coat all wore.

Tis there his hat he used to throw. I never thought I'd miss it so!

"He used to smile to hear me cold. But now day-long my tongue I hold, And all is orderly and neat.

I wish he'd come with muddy feet. The moment I have swept the floor And, heedless, track it, just once more!

"Tis strange, that I should long to know

The cares o'er which I fretted so;

Could look upon the great hall chair And see his dripping raincoat there.

But all is now so neat and trim, For lost is every trace of him."

What Noted People Say

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt commemorates Bastille Day:

"On this anniversary, which has so deep a significance to every lover of democracy, I express the hope that the people of France may soon again enjoy the blessings of liberty, equality and fraternity."

MELBOURNE—Herbert V. Evatt, minister of external affairs: "I am convinced that if we don't move shortly on the offensive Japan will. Until we are able to attack Japan we must be prepared to be attacked by Japan."

WASHINGTON—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., reports to the senate on the American forces in Libya: "It is good to be able to say to you that both men and equipment are first class."

DENVER—Milton Berney, vice-president of the Mountain States Telephone company asks elimination of unnecessary phone conversations: "We must shoot more and talk less."

"Should I marry a man who fibs to me?" "Do you want to be an old maid?"

Very often a man is important when he is needed at two places at once.

"Did you have a nice honeymoon, Mandy?" "I suppose so. For a week Miss helped me with the washing."

Old Timer's Day Plans Progress

Arrangements For Coming Reunion Well In Hand, President Dana Reports

COMMITTEES AT WORK ON PLANS

Attorney Richard F. Dana, new president of the Old Timer's Reunion Association, stated that the officers and committees of the association are hard at work on plans for the coming reunion, August 19, at Cascade park, and in spite of the war and other diverting influences expect the coming reunion to be just as big and interesting as any held in the past few years.

It was announced that the registration, ladies' reception, and floor committees will be the same as last year, all of whom have been zealous workers in the past for the success of the event, assuring that these functions will be well taken care of.

President Dana states that with the buses now operating at the park, those attending will have fewer steps to take to get to the pavilion, where the reunion will take place, the bus going down into the park in turning around for the trip back to the city.

Further arrangements in regard to the reunion will be announced shortly, the new president states.

Child-Bride To Secure Shoes To Appear At Trial

Barefoot 15-Year-Old Bride Held On Murder Charge In Liquor Feud Battle

International News Service

JASPER, Tenn., July 15.—Barefooted Lily Parsons, 15-year-old bride, reluctantly called for a pair of shoes today so she could go to the Marion county courthouse to answer charges of fatally shooting Solis "Snoopy" Redmond, 26 during a liquor feud battle.

Lily, who doesn't like shoes and hasn't worn any for a long time, said she wanted the shoes to show to answer for Squid D. Bryant who was to preside at the hearing today.

Held with the child-bride in the county jail in connection with the shooting were her 15-year-old husband, Walter, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Parsons.

The shooting occurred at a bridge over a creek last Saturday and climaxed a battle between the Parsons and Redmond clans in which many shots were fired. The child-bride's shot was the lone effective bullet.

Members of both families, armed with shotguns and rifles, gathered at the general store near the bridge when Lily accused Redmond of hijacking 50 gallons of moonshine whisky she and her husband had "stilled."

"Snoopy" hijacked the liquor we'd stillled," Lily said. "I told him he shouldn't have done it. He took after Walter with a hawk blade knife, I ran for Walter's mother, and she came with a shotgun. Then a lot of relatives came."

"A fried of 'Snoopy's' fired at me but I ducked. Then Walter's mother handed me the shotgun. She'd taken the shells out but she gave them to me. I put them in the gun and waited. 'Snoopy' slapped my face. I killed him."

Navy Recruiters Get Assistance

Chief Petty Officer From Uniontown Is Transferred To Help In City

Arriving at the New Castle navy recruiting office in the post office for duty this morning was Chief Petty Officer Leander Lambert.

Because it is necessary to have two of the three navy men from the New Castle office out of town four days a week on recruiting trips to Sharon, Greenville, Oil City and Franklin and because of the increased recruiting speed, it was found desirable to have more help in New Castle.

Chief Lambert has seen 31 years of service in the U. S. navy and will be of material assistance to prospective sailors because of his long experience.

Lambert comes to New Castle from the navy recruiting office in Uniontown where he has been stationed since the beginning of the war.

Aleutian Island Evacuees Tell Of American Ingenuity

International News Service
AN ALASKAN PORT, July 15.—A story of American ingenuity in patching bullet-riddled pontoons of navy seaplanes during American bombing raids on Kiska was related today with the arrival of evacuees from the western Aleutian islands.

The repair jobs were done with pencils from an Indian service schoolhouse on one of the tiny islands that stretch westward from Alaska, according to the story of Charles McGee, a former marine from San Diego who is an Indian service teacher. McGee and his wife, who lived in Ottawa, Kan., donated the pencils from the school rooms and helped the navy pilots plug the holes made in the pontoons of their ships by Japanese bullets.

Between raids on Japanese-held Kiska the tired pilots bunked in the classrooms of the small schoolhouse, McGee said. They made landings in the small harbor the day after the Japs had occupied Kiska and immediately launched a series of raids on enemy ships.

Attacks were made at two-hour intervals for two days and nights, according to McGee's account. The airmen reported sinking a large transport, a submarine and several other ships in low-level attacks. They also reported shooting down two Japanese Zero fighters.

Former Civil Engineer Saves Argentine Ship Disabled By U-Boat

By JOHN R. HENRY

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET
a Mid-Ocean Base—(Delayed)—A former civil engineer who became a naval reservist because he loved the sea threw a new light today on the restoration of the Argentine ship Victoria after it had been torpedoed by an enemy submarine and abandoned by its crew.

Lt. Frederick G. Coffin, 38-year-old Chicagoan, told how he won a commendation from the commander-in-chief of the fleet for boarding the abandoned tanker and getting it underway again.

The 12,000-ton Victoria, enroute from Buenos Aires to New York, was the first Argentine vessel attacked by an enemy undersea craft.

Return To Tanker

Its captain and crew were picked up from lifeboats by the ship to which Lieutenant Coffin was attached and an American warship.

The 39 Argentinians were placed back aboard their stricken vessel, that, except for a 40-degree list to port, everything aboard seemed in working order.

Within 15 minutes, Coffin started the ship's engines, and soon had the ship underway.

The navy vessel, meanwhile, had picked up a boatload of survivors, none of whom were injured.

A warship found the others, including the captain of the vessel, and put them aboard.

With the gasoline lighter still attached, Coffin's ship escorted the Victoria toward port, then turned back toward its original destination when it was apparent that the Argentine ship would reach port.

Coffin and Lt. Comdr. Colby G. Rucker, at that time skipper of the navy ship, were commended by the navy for their performance, and the Mihovich Co., owners of the Victoria, donated $20,000 to the U.S. naval relief fund for the salvage of the ship.

The 39 crew members of the Victoria explained they had abandoned their ship after the second torpedo was fired by the sub. They explained that they feared the vessel was sinking.

Flying Tigers, Wolverines Pace League At Camp Rentz

Baseball, "Capture the Flag," campfires, swimming, story telling and singing are a few of the activities that the fellows at Camp Fred L. Rentz have been enjoying the first few days of the second week of camp. And with excellent weather plus organized fun they are having a wonderful time on the banks of the Slippery Rock.

Ken Schepeler picked the teams that opened the baseball league on Monday afternoon. The rosters follow: Wolverines: Ed Jackson, coach; Don Black, captain; Greg Thomas, Don Frediani, Jim Younkens, Gordy McCarthy, Glenn Hedrick, Wayne Fullerton, Lee McCombs, Bob Stover, Steve Talios, Melvin Swadener, Dick Cole, Art Chapman, Pete Penilla, Ed Rizkia, Bob Shaw, Jim Younkens, Jack Fassinger, Marvin Leiby.

The ball teams mixed in the evening and the Flying Tigers and Wolverines slugged their ways to decisive victories. Jim Younkens, Wolverines, hit a homer and a double to be the Di Maggio of the day.

After the games the boys cooled off with a swim, and then camp fire was lit. Lusty singing was heard for a while. Then Jim Hares, in his inimitable way, led the boys spellbound as he gave out with a thrilling New England tale.

Capture the flag stunt night, and other novelties are on tap for today. The campers have a buglar now, Jim Hamilton, who puts them out with Taps and brings them back with Reveille.

Midway Naval Battle Greatest In American History

Navy's Official Report Is Given

Japanese Losses In Midway Battle Placed At Twenty Warships

U. S. LOST BUT ONE DESTROYER

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Navy's official summary on the battle of Midway left no doubt today it was the greatest sea victory in American history and at the same time disclosed that within recent weeks U. S. defenses in the Pacific as well as on the West Coast from Alaska to Panama have been reinforced.

Japanese losses in the furious three-day battle in the mid-Pacific were listed by the Navy communiqué at four aircraft carriers sunk and at least 16 other warships and auxiliary vessels destroyed or damaged, against U. S. losses of one destroyer sunk and the carrier Yorktown "put out of action."

Japan Loses High

In addition, Japanese personnel losses were set at 4,800 killed or drowned against 307 American officers and men lost, and enemy plane losses were put at 275 while this nation apparently lost 33.

Tucked away in the battle report was the statement that prior to the Midway battle, American officials anticipated a Japanese attack in force possibly on Hawaii, Alaska, the Panama Canal or even the Pacific coast—and that preparations were made accordingly.

Indicating the brilliant strategy which led to the complete rout of an enemy invasion force of at least 80 ships, the communiqué said:

"The enemy had learned in the battle of the Coral Sea that the sea approaches to Australia were strongly defended. It appeared logical, therefore, to assume that the enemy's next thrust would come in some other area—possibly Hawaii, Alaska, the Panama Canal zone, or even the Pacific coast of the United States."

In accordance with this estimate, United States naval surface forces were deployed in the area between Midway and the Aleutian Islands. Bases in the outlying islands (presumably in the mid-Pacific) were reinforced by long-range, shore-based aircraft. Similar precautionary measures also were taken on the Pacific coast and in the vicinity of the Panama Canal."

Despite the fact that since the battle of Midway the Nipponese have occupied the Aleutian Islands of Attu and Kiska, naval experts have contended that the smashing American victory in the mid-Pacific gave the U. S. virtual mastery of the vast ocean area from Dutch Harbor to Australia.

He later applied for work at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and on Dec. 31, 1941, 24 days after Pearl Harbor, he was notified to appear for a physical examination on Jan. 3, 1942. He passed the examination and was ordered to appear for work on Jan. 5 in a yard even then expanding rapidly.

He didn't show up. Why he didn't doesn't appear on his record. That shows that on Jan. 20, 1942, he was "discharged" at his own request.

As an organization the Greek Orthodox church of St. George located at 215 East Reynolds street has more than an academic interest in providing the implements of war. The church has just arranged to purchase $1,50 worth of war bonds out of money in the church treasury. The decision to purchase the bonds was made at a meeting of the directors held July 13.

The board of directors is composed of the following men: President, Speer Marousis; George Karidis, George Papazekos, James Passias, George Giakoumakis, William Lestas and George Nikitakis.

St. George church came into being in 1928 when the building was purchased from the congregation of the Grace M. E. Improvements and repairs were made and today the church is free of all indebtedness.

In Great Britain the volume of goods available for retailers by the end of 1942 will be only one-third of the pre-war amount, according to the department of commerce.

Cramer's close associates among the saboteurs were Werner Thiel and Edward John Kerling.

They allegedly told him how they had been trained in a Berlin sabotage school, how they had arrived in the United States and gave him $3,675 to keep for them. Most of the money was later seized by the F.B.I.

This was revealed Tuesday by his U. S. Civil Service record as the government pushed plans to try him and 13 others, six of them women, as accomplices of the submarine saboteurs.

Cramer, close and trusted friend of two of the saboteurs, was ordered to report for work in the navy yard on Jan. 3 last, nearly a month after the Pearl Harbor attack, his record revealed.

The record shows that Jan. 30, 1941, Cramer, then 41, applied for a civil service rating as shipwright.

The application dragged along and on Aug. 13, 1941, he was so rated.

He later applied for work at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and on Dec. 31, 1941, 24 days after Pearl Harbor, he was notified to appear for a physical examination on Jan. 3, 1942. He passed the examination and was ordered to appear for work on Jan. 5 in a yard even then expanding rapidly.

Notes In Bottles Still Bob Across The Seven Seas

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON.—Messages in bottles are still bobbing across the high seas!

How these glass envelopes, reminiscent of pirate treasure maps, are used to calculate tides and drifts for the service of ships was related recently by the Navy's Hydrographic Office.

Ships' masters, when at sea, note their latitude and longitude, date their papers and cast them sealed in bottles overboard with no particular destination. The destination is left to the discretion of the tide, the subject to be observed.

Where and when the bottles are beached is information to be filed on the documents by their finders, thus completing time and direction of the voyages. Sometimes, messages are washed up 10,000 miles from their starting points.

Instructions for return are printed on the slips in eight languages, including Esperanto. They emphasize that the finder will receive no monetary reward. The Navy, however, makes it policy to comply with a hydrographic map gift for the returned message.

Bottle messages have reached the Hydrographic Office from every corner of the world. Today they are less valuable than formerly, because of periodic tide-flow tests with instruments aboard ship. But the fascinating wave-beaten bottles still trickle through, almost two a day.

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Some are allergic to growing weeds or certain foods.

Others are allergic to cold water. These may develop severe reactions when diving into cold water.

A feeling of weakness overcomes them.

They can make no effort to call for help.

Complete failure of circulation may occur and they drown.

In most cases of cold allergy there is a fall in blood pressure.

There is a rapid pulse, fainting or unconsciousness.

Such allergic persons should be careful about swimming.

There are 400 drownings a year in Pennsylvania.

Some were undoubtedly due to cold allergy.

A cold water plunge can "take away one's breath" and maybe life.

FISHERMEN'S PARADISE
(International News Service)
HARRISBURG.—With all its industry and transportation, Pennsylvania also has 9,500 miles of fishing streams, and every year in its woodlands nearly 1,000,000 hunters bag more than 13,000 tons of bear and deer.

The Keystone State, claims Secretary of Commerce Mark James, sells more poultry and eggs than any other state and stands among the Nation's great producers of both potatoes and apples.

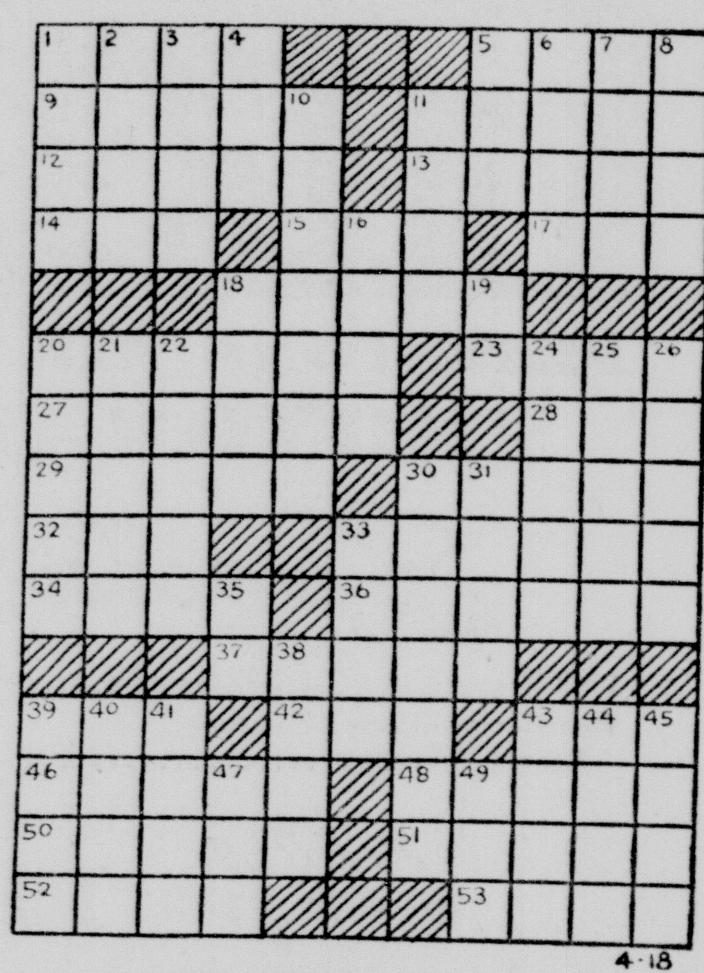

If the war is to last five years, with ever-increasing cost, wouldn't it be a good idea to save a few odd billions here and there?

"The Mission Had Been Accomplished"

"A running fight between the bomber and the 18 Japanese pursuit planes continued for 75 miles . . . continued until the remaining pursuit ships exhausted their ammunition and turned back. With two engines gone and the plane practically out of control, the American bomber returned to its base after dark and made an emergency landing. THE MISSION HAD BEEN ACCOMPLISHED."

—President Roosevelt, in his Fireside Chat, April 28, 1942

THERE, in the words of President Roosevelt, is one of the war's most stirring episodes—a demonstration of how, with one man killed, another man's hand shot off, and a third man injured, our American boys stuck to the fight, bombed their objective, and brought their plane home.

Undoubtedly you felt a thrill when you heard it over the air, and maybe you'll have another thrill reading it again.

But your thrills won't win the war!

It takes planes—thousands of them—and tanks—thousands of them—and shells—millions of them—and bullets—billions of them! It needs ships and guns and jeeps . . .

It takes money.

It takes the money of all of us—the girls at their typewriters, the men at their machines—the clerks, the farmers, the messengers, the bookkeepers and the salesmen.

It needs a surging, patriotic Nation of people who love their country enough to buy a share of America by investing 10% of their wages every payday—a dime from every dollar—in War Bonds.

It needs—and it's getting it!—the cooperation of Labor and Management to put the Payroll Savings Plan over the top.

Your money in War Bonds—10% of your salary every payday—not only will help pay the bill to create the most powerful blasting force ever put together—but you'll do yourself and your family a favor, too.

Because every time your savings amount to $18.75, you'll get a War Bond—worth $25 in ten years.

You don't give your money—you invest it, both for Victory, and for your own personal security.

That's your mission—will you accomplish it?

EVERYBODY— EVERY PAYDAY 10% IN WAR BONDS

NEW YORK, July 15.—The sun played tricks, in gold and brown, on the clubhouse lawn up at Empire City and the little old man with the sunset in his face and the true love of horses in his eyes, leaned his aging back restfully against one of the deserted stall walls.

"Son, I can't quite believe it," said Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the dean of America's racing trainers.

"I can't quite believe it. There's no doubt now Whirlaway will pass old Seabiscuit's all-time winning mark but I never thought any horse would come along so quickly to do it."

Fitz was talking about the $50,000 added Massachusetts handicap to be run at Suffolk Downs today, in which Whirl, the pride of the Calumet Farm is expected to write his name in turf history. A victory in that one and the long-tailed beauty of Warren Wright's famous farm will become the greatest money winner in American turf annals, surpassing Seabiscuit's mark of $437,730.

Sunny Jim paused a moment and we asked him what he thought of the Biscuit as a horse, compared with Whirl.

Different Type

"They're different type horses," said the old fellow. "Don't think for a minute that Whirlaway is as good a horse as the Biscuit was. That Seabiscuit ran against much larger fields, had to take more hard knocks and did a lot of things Whirlaway never did, and, remember, he was shipped around the country like an old shoe—that's something Whirlaway never had to worry about."

Who would win a race between the two at level weights, if both were in pink form?

"I'm sure the Biscuit would whip Whirlaway," said Sunny Jim. "He could run a quarter of a mile in 22 and a fraction seconds from the gate or he could be rated in front until Whirlaway tried to pass him—and I don't think anything could get past Seabiscuit in a cleanly run race."

Did Sunny Jim think Whirl would win the Massachusetts and march into the richest winner's circle of all time?

"He won't have an easy time to it," concluded the little old man with the sunset face. "I've whipped Apache up there and I believe he gets in with 107 pounds to Whirlaway's 130. He'll do some running."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Whirlaway's owner wants him to win $44,850 at Suffolk Downs today. Should Big Tail cop he will have won $455,336, beating Sea Biscuit's winnings of $437,730.

Transfigure, Swing and Sway Rounders, Blueberry Pie, Attention, Apache and Hysterical will run against him with Apache most feared.

Delaware Track Estimated $200,000

Wilmington Handicapper Institutes Odd Suit; Court Rules
Against Track

(International News Service)
DOVER, Del., July 15.—Although only five cents was involved in the suit, Delaware Park faces the possibility of having to surrender an estimated $200,000 of the "breakage" it pocketed on horse race bets since the ultra-modern race track opened four years ago.

In upholding a lower court's judgment, the supreme court, Delaware's highest appellate bench, ruled the track used an illegal method of computing "breakage."

Arthur W. Wise, Wilmington handicapper and president of the Delaware Race Players' Protective Association, instituted the suit, claiming he was entitled to a payoff of $6.30 on a $5 show bet instead of the $6.25 proffered by the track.

"Breakage" Explained

"Breakage" is the custom, followed at all pari-mutuel tracks, of keeping the odd pennies in paying off bets. At Delaware Park, breakage is figured on each dollar bet and the courts upheld Wise's contention that it should be figured on the basis of the amount paid for the mutual ticket—$2, $5, $10 or $50.

On Wise's bet the payoff figured $2.25 for each $1 wagered. He conceded the track was entitled to pay off at $1.25 because of the breakage, but contended that since his bet was of $5, there was no breakage because five times $1.25 comes to the even figure of $6.00.

Wise estimates that the track has illegally taken in $200,000 as "breakage," and he added:

"I will not rest until the track is forced to disgorge the entire sum illegally collected. It is now up to the racing commission to demand an accounting and see that the money is turned over to the state treasury, since it cannot be returned to the bettors."

"If this is not done, we will ask the state legislature to recover the money. If this fails, we will take other action."

OFF THEY GO—Horses get off to a good start at Empire City, N. Y., race track with Hylas, second from rail, the winner.

Fistic Action, Bomb Fighting, War Bonds To Attract People

AIR RAID WARDENS HELPING PROMOTION

Interest is increasing daily in the scheduled fistic and bomb spectacles at Taggart stadium Tuesday night and according to W. J. Connery, general chairman he believes there will be between 8,000 and 10,000 present when the amateur fights begin at 8:30 p. m. The purpose of the show is to raise money to buy equipment for OCD work here.

According to Frank Sargent, chief air raid warden, his wardens have launched into the work and like firemen and ex-service men have pasteboards which can be delivered in their respective precincts. There are approximately 1,000 air raid wardens.

If Connery's figures are right it will mean the passing of the old fight attendance mark. Approximately 4,000 crowded into the Jolly bowl to see Henry Firpo and George Perrotta fight and approximately the same number witnessed Willie Davies box Midlet Wolgast.

Exciting Bomb-Battle

In addition to the all-star pugilistic spectacle there will be a hand-to-hand combat demonstration.

Bill Bowen, city fire department and Merle Brunton, will set off the bomb and when the flames begin eating the building they will show how to put it out.

There will be an award of several war bonds to different people who attend the spectacles Tuesday night.

Dodger Flinger Rings Up
10th Win, 5-1; Musial
Stars For Cardinals

NEW YORK YANKEES WIN; RED SOX LOSE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 15.—Stan Musial, 21-year-old St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, knows all the joys and thrills that go with hitting an extra-inning game winning home run.

The lanky youngster from Dozier, Pa., who was a power-house last season in three leagues, including the National, pulled his dramatic feat in the 11th inning yesterday to give the Cards a 7 to 5 win over the Boston Braves.

One man was on and two were away when he connected for his seventh circuit blow of the year to keep the Cards from losing any ground to the leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who beat Pittsburgh's Pirates in a night game.

And Musial is also going along this campaign just about as he did last year, when he played at Springfield, Rochester and finally with the Cardinals and demonstrated the power that is expected to see him established as one of the top flight performers eventually.

The Dodgers maintained their eight-game edge by downing the Pines 5 to 1. Wyatt hurled a three-hitter for his 10th win of the year.

Olsen Blanks Giants

The New York Giants were turned back by the Chicago Cubs and Verne Olsen, 3 to 0, despite the fact that the latter allowed 11 hits, while the Philadelphia Phillies won from the Cincinnati Reds on a fluke home run, 2 to 1.

Ray Starr hurled a three-hitter for the Reds, but lost the game when, in the fifth inning, Pitzen Melton of the Phils hit a fly ball on which Max Marshall and Harry Craft, Red outfielders, ran together. The ball dropped safely and Melton scored behind Catcher Ben Warren.

The only two games in the American League served to enable the New York Yankees to increase their lead over the Boston Red Sox to six games.

The Yankees beat the Detroit Tigers, 3 to 0, on "Hank" Borowy's two-bits, hurling, and the pitcher also belted a triple that scored a run. Tommy Henrich drove in the other two with the homer, as Al Benton lost a six-hitter.

The Red Sox lost their series with the St. Louis Browns on a clean sweep, 3 to 2. Johnny Niggeling hurled a seven-hitter to take the decision.

FAIR OR FOUL By LAWTON CARVER INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 15.—Have the young pitchers that they couldn't find work for the lanky hurler from Mt. Ida, Ark.

All anybody around here seems to know is that Warneke was getting a salary of around $12,000 a year, with the Cards and the season hasn't been too good and the first thing he knew one day was that he no longer was a member in good standing at St. Louis but was, rather, a new Cub.

Baseball is the kind of business where dollars generally come first and sentiment a very bad last, and the Cardinals in particular have built strictly for money through the years with the result that the Warneke transfer might indicate that the Dodgers' lead of eight games has discouraged further plans for spending toward the pennant.

The Cards might win it anyhow even without Warneke, in which case they have unloaded a high-priced piece of antique brie-a-brac.

On the other hand, it seems extremely unlikely that they couldn't have made some use of a gentleman so why as he on the hurling mound.

It is a notable fact that he's now 33 years old, but you may recall that he won 17 games for the Cardinals last season and he is the kind of gent you can call on here and there in the clutch with reasonable assurance that he will (1) come through or (2) fail trying with all he's got.

Warneke Tip-Off

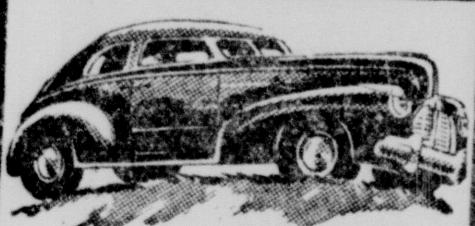

The tale-bearers point to the recent transfer of the veteran Lon Warneke from the Cards to the Chicago Cubs on waivers with the excuse that the Cards have so many

Back Where He Started

In rejoining the Cubs, Warneke goes back to the club with which he reached his peak of stardom. After batting around the minors for awhile he got a tryout with the Cubs on 1930, went back to Reading, then back to the Cubs and in 1932 won 22 games, a performance that he duplicated for them in 1934.

He stayed with the Cubs through 1936, then went to the Cardinals and has been with the latter ever since until being sent back to his alma mater.

There is life in the old boy yet as you can be assured he will attempt to prove—especially against the Cardinals if he gets the chance.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—An announcement was made on the floor of the senate today that the recent two and one half cent increase in the price of gasoline in eastern states will be rescinded and the government will compensate the oil companies for their greater costs of operations.

Girl Lifeguards At Cascade Make Success Of Ex-man's Job

No longer do the beautiful girls who want to know the lifeguard at the Cascade Park pool accidentally fall in the deep section and cry for help—the shoe is on the other foot. Now, it is the boys who want to get to know the lifeguards.

Because for the first time in the history of Cascade Park, women have taken over the lifeguarding and according to Superintendent Chris Coulthard the experiment has been very satisfactory so far.

"I admit I was a little worried in the beginning," said the genial Chris. "I thought that some of the smart boys might try to pull fake drawings, or that they might have some trouble enforcing the necessary discipline."

Prove Efficient

But the girls have turned out to be even more efficient than male guards—another blow to the legend of male superiority. The girls get obedience even more quickly than did men of other years because 'it doesn't seem very gentlemanly or nice to sass the girls back,' according to Coulthard.

Two girl guards, Ilene Wadlinger and Betty Stritzinger, have been on duty since the opening of the park pool this year. The girls work seven hours each day—one on from opening time at 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., the other from 2 p.m. until closing time at 10 p.m. With this arrangement, both guards are on duty from 2 to 6 in the afternoon to insure maximum safety during the busiest swimming hours, it was explained. Both girls, holding both expert swimmer and qualified Red Cross life savers, holding both junior and senior badges.

No Men Available

The park was almost forced to try girls at this hitherto exclusively male domain this year because as Chris Coulthard explained, there simply were no men who could be found for the job. They are all in the army or a war factory. "That forced our hand," he hesitated, then smiled and said: "And I'm glad it did. I don't think we'll ever turn back now."

The crowds—and they have real crowds at the park pool, Monday there were 1,400—are kept under control by the sounding of the lifeguards' whistles, which signifies that someone is participating in

Urge Student Hands For Harvest Work

Employment Leaders Say It
Will Establish Reservoir
For 1943

Recommendations that farmers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware make greater use of high school students for harvesting work were made today by the United States Employment Service.

One advantage of this, according to William W. Bardsey, regional representative of the service, is that it may provide a reservoir of particularly-trained agricultural workers for next year when the shortage of trained workers is expected to be more acute than now.

Legion Seeks Old Phonograph Records

Campaign Will Be Staged To Provide Modern Records
For Men In Service

With Ivor M. Richards as chairman, a campaign will be staged by the Perry S. Gaston Post, in conjunction with a similar movement throughout the country, to secure old phonograph records, which will be scrapped, and the proceeds used to provide new records and phonographs for the men in the training camps of the country. The American Legion is cooperating with a committee of national music stars to provide this form of entertainment for the boys in service. Further details of the campaign here will be announced later.

The post at its meeting in the Legion Home last evening, voted down a proposal to establish a bar in the Legion Home.

Earl Moffatt, chairman of the junior baseball committee reported that the American Legion representative team had been chosen for the elimination series, which starts July 30. Sectional eliminations start August 15, intersectional on August 20, and the state finals on August 23.

The aircraft warning service is going along smoothly at the posts under the jurisdiction of the Perry S. Gaston Post, the post members were informed, and all members were asked to volunteer their services to help keep the posts manned.
